- 1) This is the book (which was/that was) written by my father.
 Many projects (that are) used to spread the peace all over the world engage celebrities.
 I am in contact with my schoolfriend (who was) born the same day as me.

Notice one important thing- these relative clauses can be with and without the relative pronouns and the verb be given in brackets. What is common for them ? They are passive relative clauses.

To conclude: relativna zamjenica i glagol - to be -mogu se izostaviti ako je kompletna relativna recenica u pasivu.

- 2) Read and do ex. 2a, b, c, and d.

Where can you cross out the words in italics?:

- 1) John, whose TV series made a great success, is working on a new peace project.
- 2) Ivo Andric who is regarded as one of the best writers of our modern age, most of his life spent in Belgrade.
- 3) The New Year's Eve which is celebrated in New York is one of the biggest spectacles in the world.
- 4) Humanitarian organizations which work in our country are always under the magnifying glass of the public institutions.

Ok, you are right- italic words can be crossed out in sentences 2 and 3 (as they are in passive)

3.FAME

Do ex. 3, p 75. Think and write some people who fit into the expressions.

4.EXPRESSING OPINIONS

1) Think of different ways to express your opinion.

Write them in your NB.
